Cumberland Presbyterian Church
Green Pasture Kindergarten

A Quality Language Learning Environment that Values Children's Character and Spiritual Growth

Cumberland Presbyterian Church Green Pasture Kindergarten was established in 1997, located in Tung Chung, Lantau Island, with very convenient transportation. The campus features a beautiful environment, including a spacious hall, a large outdoor playground, a free play area, a music zone, a library, a small garden, a fish pond, along with a variety of intelligent toys and physical equipment. As a Christian school, Principal Leung Lai-shan emphasises that the school aims to promote the love and care of Christ, cultivating children through biblical truths and inspiring their development in "spiritual, moral, intellectual, physical, social, and aesthetic" aspects, allowing them to grow healthily and happily.

Emphasis on Spirituality and Character Education

The kindergarten has appointed the head of Moral Education and Religious Education to plan a comprehensive curriculum for Bible classes and character education aimed at young children. Through children's worship activities, they sing songs and share Bible stories, fostering their spiritual growth.

The kindergarten introduced character education programs over 20 years ago, working in collaboration with families to help children develop positive habits both at school and at home, fostering good character and values. The school implements a new character trait theme every two months, incorporating practical activities, picture books, and role-playing to deepen children's understanding of good values.

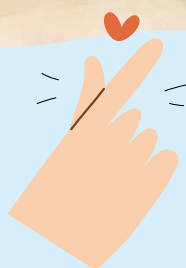

Quality Teaching Team Providing Small Class Instruction

One reason for the kindergarten's popularity among parents is its excellent teaching staff, who care deeply for the children. Principal Leung states that the school is rigorous in selecting teachers, focusing not only on professional qualifications and teaching experience but also on good character and a caring spirit that sets a positive example. The dedicated teaching team fosters a strong culture of care in the campus. Many parents appreciate the love and selfless dedication of the teachers at GPK. The school also practices small class teaching to ensure appropriate care for every child.

Quality Language Learning Environment with Non-Chinese Speaker Support

Tung Chung is an international community near Discovery Bay and the Hong Kong International Airport, where many expatriate families choose to enroll their children in Green Pasture Kindergarten, creating a natural bilingual learning environment. In addition to English classes taught by specialised English teachers and foreign instructors, the school has specialised Mandarin teachers to teach Mandarin and conduct activities. Children are used to communicating in both English and Chinese during free play and daily life situations, enhancing their confidence in language learning.

Free Play and Theme Learning

The school arranges free play and self-selected corner activities to cultivate children's independent learning spirit and curiosity. The free play area is spacious, allowing children to engage in various activities. The school focuses on theme learning, using storybook teaching and rich interactive activities to promote enjoyable learning through play. In corners designed around different life themes—such as science and nature corner, amusement park construction, and language corner—children can plan their learning goals based on their interests and engage in hands-on practice to reinforce their learning experiences.

Diverse Outdoor Experience Activities to Broaden Children's Horizons

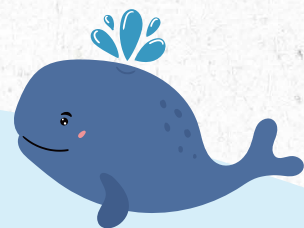

In addition to knowledge and skills, the school organises various outdoor experience activities to expand children's horizons. In class, teachers connect different themes with relevant life experiences, guiding children to explore and challenge themselves actively. Children are always looking forward to outdoor experiences.

Meanwhile, our school emphasises home-school cooperation through a variety of parent-child activities. These include picnics, sports days, parent-child reading award schemes, and world cultural integration events. Parents eagerly participate in these activities, which enhance children's learning experiences.

To support non-Chinese speaking students, the school arranges dedicated teachers who use games and engaging activities, along with specially designed teaching aids to assist children in learning Chinese.

Our school has appointed learning support teachers for non-Chinese speaking children to participate in the "C-for-Chinese@JC" project cultural responsive teaching materials design competition, and we have won the "Most Innovative Award." This accolade not only affirms our efforts but also upholds the educational philosophy of helping non-Chinese speaking students learn Chinese. The school will continue to incorporate more innovative elements into teaching to increase young children's interest in learning Chinese and their understanding of different cultures around the world.

Cultivating Children's Development in Music, Physical Education, and Arts

The school emphasises the children's development in music, physical education and arts, providing systematic and diverse activities each day to help children experience the joy and unleash their creative potential. Physical and artistic activities help children express their emotions on different levels, which is crucial for their development.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church Green Pasture Kindergarten implements child-centered education through various teaching strategies and support, designing engaging, game-based curricula that cater to children's developmental stages and abilities, fostering a proactive learning attitude. Principal Leung states, "Our ultimate hope is to help children enjoy learning, face challenges bravely, and excel in communication and cooperation, embody the spirit of loving God and others."
